

You wake up to find yourself on a spaceship hurtling through the stars. The last thing you remember is going to bed at home. Looking around, you see two doors in front of you. One is labeled "Cryosleep Chamber" and the other is labeled "Bridge". Which door do you choose? Option 1: Cryosleep Chamber
Option 2: Bridge

You push open the door to the cryosleep chamber and step inside. Rows of pods suspend from the ceiling, each one holding a still figure. The air is cold and still. As you walk among the pods, you notice that one is empty and the lid is open. A red light is flashing above it. Option 1: Investigate the empty pod Option 2: Go back to the door and try the other one

You approach the empty pod and notice a small console next to it. As you examine the console, a message appears on the screen: "Cryopod malfunction detected. Evacuate immediately." Suddenly, the ship jolts and alarms start blaring throughout the chamber. A display on the console shows that the ship has sustained damage and the oxygen levels are dropping rapidly. Option 1: Try to fix the malfunctioning pod Option 2: Look for an oxygen mask and try to escape the ship.
