You find yourself in Smallville, where strange things tend to happen. You are Clark Kent, also known as Superman, and you're facing a new threat. The Phantom Zone has opened up, and its prisoners are free to wreak havoc on your city. What will you do?

Option 1: Gather a team of superheroes to take down the escaped Phantom Zone prisoners.

Option 2: Take them down by yourself, you're Superman after all.

Option 3: Seek the help of the Justice League.

Option 4: Try to negotiate with the prisoners and come to a peaceful resolution.

Option 2: You decide to take down the escaped prisoners from the Phantom Zone all by yourself. You fly to the first one on your list, Bar-El, who is causing chaos at the Smallville power plant. As you approach him, he blasts you with his heat vision.

Option 1: Use your freeze breath to counter Bar-El's heat vision.

Option 2: Use your super strength to punch him back.

Option 3: Try to reason with him and convince him to surrender.

Option 4: Use your x-ray vision to find a weakness in his armor.

Option 4: You use your x-ray vision to scan Bar-EI's armor, and you notice that there is a small gap in the chest plate. You use your heat vision to target that weak spot, causing Bar-EI to crumble to the ground.

As you make your way to the next Phantom Zone prisoner, you receive a call from Batman. He informs you that the Justice League has been dispatched to help you take down the remaining escaped prisoners.

Option 1: Join forces with the Justice League and take down the escaped prisoners together.

Option 2: Continue to work alone to protect your city.

Option 3: Thank Batman but say you can handle it on your own.

Option 4: Accept the Justice League's offer to help, but only as backup.
